Rejoice!

When curtains were selected I lobbied for the ones that completely block out the light. There were some that matched the décor and found their way into our shopping cart and eventually over our bedroom windows. They looked beautiful by day, but, more importantly, they created darkness at night.

Our bedroom windows are covered with wooden blinds that shut with the pull of a cord. However, they fail to block out all the light that illumines our street. The brightest light in the neighborhood points toward the window on my side of the bed. Every night it revealed the less than perfect seal around the edges of the blinds. For the eight years we had lived in the home I accepted multiple interruptions of sleep as a part of this stage in life. I've never been this old before.

Imagine my elation when I slept more soundly and longer than I have in years – once we turned our bedroom into a cave. I found it so much easier to sleep with all the light blocked out.

The same thing happens spiritually in our world. Jesus said that His followers are the light of the world. When we shine by unashamedly living in moral purity and boldly speaking with Biblical insight it arouses people from their spiritual slumber. When we hide our light because of shame or timidity, the world settles in for an extended nap in the darkness.

I need physical sleep, so we blocked out the light. The world, lost in darkness, needs to be awakened. We, as followers of Jesus Christ must reflect the light we receive from Him in order to keep the world from sleeping indefinitely. The world remains in darkness only when Christians cease to shine.

Let your light shine!
Earl

SAVE THE DATE

This Sunday is SAVE THE DATE Sunday for our church. The idea of SAVE THE DATE is used regularly when a wedding is planned. Notices go out to SAVE THE DATE so that you can attend the planned wedding. We are hoping that everyone will SAVE THE DATE of November 1 to be present for Sunday school and worship that day. How many people can we get to come to church on the same day? Hopefully we will find out this Sunday. Wouldn't it be great to completely fill the sanctuary during both services this week? And how incredible would it be to have all of those folks in Sunday school on the same day? Invite someone to come with you this Sunday. Let's all do our part to see just how many people we can gather together in God's house on SAVE THE DATE Sunday this week.

See you Sunday,
Pete
